BUILDER HIGHLIGHT

Richard Jenkins Construction, Inc. (RJ Builders) is widely recognized in Terre Haute and the greater Wabash Valley region not just for its craftsmanship, but also for its deep family roots and personal commitment to homebuilding. Founded by Richard “Rick” Jenkins, the company has always been family-oriented, with multiple generations contributing to its legacy and operations.

RJ Builders has played a significant role in shaping residential development throughout Terre Haute and the surrounding area. With a legacy that spans over five decades, they’ve not only built countless custom homes, subdivisions, and light commercial projects, but have also helped define what high-quality construction should look like.

From the beginning, RJ Builders believed in building more than just houses—they wanted to build homes. Clients weren’t just contracts; they were future neighbors, friends, and contributors to the community. That perspective helped shape a company culture where integrity, trust, and reliability remain at the forefront.
